

TIER II REPORTING

Background

Tier II Reporting is a requirement under the EPCRA law. EPCRA (Emergency Planning and Community Right-to-Know Act) was promulgated by the EPA in 1986 as part of the Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act (SARA).

EPCRA was passed in response to concerns regarding the environmental and safety hazards posed by the storage and handling of toxic chemicals. These concerns were elevated by the disaster in Bhopal, India, in which more than 2,000 people suffered death or serious injury from the accidental release of methyl isocyanate. To reduce the likelihood of such a disaster in the United States, Congress imposed requirements on both states and regulated facilities.

EPCRA establishes requirements for Federal, State, and local governments, Indian Tribes, and industry regarding emergency planning and “Community Right-to-Know” reporting on hazardous and toxic chemicals. The Community Right-to-Know provisions help increase the public’s knowledge and access to information on chemicals at individual facilities, their uses, and releases into the environment. States and communities, working with facilities, can use the information to improve chemical safety and protect public health and the environment.

EPCRA has four major provisions:

- 1 - Emergency planning (Section 301-303)
- 2 - Emergency release Notification (Section 304)
- 3 - Hazardous chemical storage reporting requirements (Sections 311-312, 40 CFR Part 370) (This is the Tier II Reporting provision).
- 4 - Toxic chemical release inventory (Section 313).

This section will discuss the Tier II reporting. Items 1,2, and 4 will be discussed in other sections of this webpage.

Hazardous Chemical Storage Reporting Requirements (40 CFR Part 370)

The first provision of this regulation requires facilities that have MSDS sheets for chemicals held above certain quantities to submit either copies of their MSDS sheets or a list of MSDS chemicals to the SERC, the LEPC, and the local fire department.

The threshold quantities are 500 lbs or the Threshold Planning Quantity for Extremely Hazardous Substances and 10,000 lbs for all other hazardous chemicals on site at any one time during a year.

Facilities that are covered by section 311, must, under section 312, submit annually an emergency and hazardous chemical inventory form to the LEPC, the SERC, and the local fire department. This is the Tier II reporting form. These reports are due to the agencies on March 1 of every year and reports the inventories of the hazardous chemicals and extremely hazardous substances for the previous calendar year.

In the State of Georgia, the Tier II report is submitted electronically to the Georgia Environmental Protection Division.
